At Italianissimo! we pride ourselves on the freshness and quality of our ingredients and as such prepare most of our food to order. This may mean that at busy times it may take longer than usual to arrive. We appreciate your patience in this matter.

At Italianissimo! we use a wide selection of Italian products, including freshly baked Italian bread. We source as many authentic products as possible, and we take pride in bringing you the best produce at the best prices.

We never over stock, thus ensuring that whatever your order is, it's always made with fresh ingredients. This means that sometimes certain products may not be available; we would rather run out of an item or two, than give you "old" stock.

If you have any dietary requests, please let us know. We are only too happy to try and accommodate them where possible.

This Is What Our Customers Have To Say:

I've been going to Italianissimo since it opened last year. What a lovely place! Love every thing about it, and the staff are great. Keep it up!

Damian

I have been going to Italianissimo for some time now and have to say that it is by far the best café, eatery in the area if not East London as a whole. The cappuccino is also by far better than anything in the area, plus you get a free biscuit. I am also a fan of the pasta dishes, especially the chilli chicken strips and spicy tomato with meatball varieties. I can't say enough good words about this place.

Daniel FS

I travel from Ilford at least twice a week just for the coffee. I have torn up my loyalty cards at other coffee places for the double macchiato at Italianissimo. The penne with bolognese sauce is also a winner. Keep it up

Brian (Macchiato Man)

It's a fine place to eat. Alf seems to have recreated his previously sold Café "Chicchi" in a similar manner. Good luck to you on this new venture, and I will bring my wife and grandchild again to see you in half term

Ozi

I just discovered this cracking Italian coffee shop inside the liberty. It was about time Romford had a place like this one. I'll be back and I'll tell my friends about it too, keep up the good work.

Johnathan Fielding

Italianissimo is breath of fresh air for Romford that has struggled to have any decent, pleasant places to eat, drink and relax until now. The food is so fresh and wonderful I just have to keep visiting. They have a wonderful range of teas from all over the world which many I have never experienced before, the cakes are a dream and the staff are so welcoming and attentive to your needs. I have been back to visit taking my friends and family who also love this little place. I highly recommend Italianissimo and everything it stands for.
